PETRA WICHMANN

Designer Jewellery

The Designer

Jewellery by Petra Wichmann is a passionate personal story, inviting you to a journey of spirited creativity and timelessly beautiful pieces of jewellery.

Since 2017, the designer living in the south of Germany has been following her re-discovered passion for artisanal work which led her to design and craft her own jewellery collection.

Her many years as an art director in Germany and Spain and her experience in the arts and design deeply influence her jewellery creations just as much as her travels to the most remote places on earth. All these influences and her intuitive understanding of harmony and aesthetical beauty brought her to create soulful pieces of jewellery with a modern approach.

Jewellery that plays with organic shapes and natural materials and thus combines visual and haptic emotions.

Natural Treasures

My work as a designer is inspired by nature's treasures, the authentic beauty of other countries and the aesthetics of very different cultures.

To preserve these treasures, I use them very carefully and create new precious objects with them. Pieces of jewellery of lasting value which in their quiet beauty withstand the passage of time.

By only making very limited numbers of my designs and producing any demand beyond that on the basis of orders, valuable resources are saved.

This, of course, affects delivery times but this type of "slow jewellery" just increases the joyful anticipation of made-for-you jewellery orders.

Gentle Soul

Creating and crafting pieces of jewellery is a very intuitive process for me, in which the choice of materials plays an important role. Precious stones, freshwater pearls, silver and gold, fine woods, natural leather and silk offer a great haptic experience than combines with the energy of tender craftsmanship. This gives my creations their unique character and a gentle soul.

I create my necklaces, earrings and bracelets for fashion- and self-confident women and men. For individualists and nature lovers who enjoy giving their personality a natural yet very personal style.

With each piece of jewellery you decide for fine materials, a clear design and high-quality craftsmanship. You make a conscious decision and a statement, free from status and prestige.

Sustainable Beauty

The basis for all my leather bracelets is high-quality natural cow leather. It comes from the original Swiss Browns of a local Bioland organic-certified Arche farm* in the Allgäu.

The farmer delivers the skins to a traditional German tannery, where they are tanned completely chromium-free, with extracts from mimosa, acorns and bark, and then dyed with plants. Thus, the leather keeps its natural feel and becomes wonderfully soft.

Local designers use this leather to manufacture their bags and the offcut pieces I use for my leather jewellery. By this collaboration almost the entire hide is made into high-quality products with a long life-cycle.
